

Executives on Auction

Where business meets for charity

What We're About

We provide perhaps the only opportunity in Ottawa for someone without connections to spend hours of quality time with top level executives (and media personalities). The winning bids go completely to the charity selected by the executive on auction. We arrange the meetings at mutually convenient times for the bidders and executives at one of our donated venues.

Meet an executive, learn from one, build a relationship or share time with a friend, all for charity.
